

North Okanagan Beekeepers

It is time to do another inspection on the North Okanagan / Okanagan College Apiary We will be checking to see if we need to add another honey super checking the health of a couple of queens and looking at ways to have the hives maximize honey production. We are meeting at the bee yard on Sunday July 28th at 10:00 AM. All are welcome to join us.

More announcements:

John Gates Has a limited supply of queens for sale as he is wrapping up his queen rearing season and consolidating nucs into singles in preparation for them to over winter.
