

North Okanagan Beekeepers September Bee Meeting

Our Beekeepers Meeting will be held once again at the Bee Yard, on Monday Sept 13th 6:30 Pm till 8:30 Pm.

Due to Covid the College is not available to host us at this time. In light of this and with the success of having meet ups when doing hive inspections and working the bees we will hold our Sept meeting at the bee yard. We will be starting 1/2 hrs earlier so it is still light, and be done before it gets dark.

Brenna M Hooper will be our guest speaker She took over the inspection positron from Stephanie for the North Okanagan Shuswap area. The topic for the meeting will be fall hive preparation. Preparing your hives for winter, so please come out and meet the new inspector

We have chairs but if you have a few that you could bring if more than 30 people show up. The meeting will be held in close proximity to the hives (sometimes bees can be a little temperamental) so if you are nervous around bees feel free to bring your suit. We have some suits and veils if you do not have one or forget to bring and need one. The mosquitoes come out in the evening so I would suggest long pants and full sleeves. To find the apiary, travel east on KLO rd., cross Mission Creek bridge and turn right onto Spiers rd., go down 300 meters and turn left into the field. Go up and drive across the middle of the field as the bottom road has a big mud hole. We will also share a few words about James, Our friend that passes away a couple of weeks ago.
